5th Sunday of Lent

Reflection

One can imagine that hearing the Word of God, which did not condemn the woman, but set her free, might also have been a word that renewed & enabled her to start a new life. What effect would it have on us if we knew we had done wrong and were ready to be harshly and justifiably judged – and weren't? Would we feel that "the finger of God" had touched and freed us so we could start all over?

So we ask ourselves:

- Do we remember something someone said to us that deeply affected us and made a change in our lives?
- Is there a word we need to speak to someone that will set them free?
